January 31, 2015

Dear Campus Department:

The Office of New Student Orientation (ONSO) would like to offer you the opportunity to reach incoming freshmen, transfer students, and their guests as a member of our Orientation Partners Program. As a campus partner, you have the unique opportunity to help us make a positive, lasting first impression during each orientation program. Your involvement will increase your department’s name recognition and awareness of your programs and services. Included in this packet is more information on the various partnership levels and opportunities to support orientation this year.

The Office of New Student Orientation provides collaborative programs that facilitate the transition and engagement of new undergraduate students and their families to the intellectual, cultural, and social environment at the University of South Carolina. Over the past year, ONSO served approximately 7,400 incoming students and 5,000 parents and guests during the orientation program. For many students, orientation is their first on-campus experience as a new member of the Carolina community. With your collaboration, we aim to make their orientation experience a memorable one.

If you are interested in the Orientation Partners Program, please return the included Partnership Program Form and submit it to the Office of New Student Orientation by Tuesday, April 3rd, 2015.

We are excited for this opportunity and look forward to working with you. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact us at partnersprogram@sc.edu or (803) 777-2780.

Sincerely,

The Office of New Student Orientation Staff

New Student Orientation Guide: Advertisement Guidelines

In line with best practices, our office is developing a resource booklet to distribute at orientation containing important information for students and families as they transition into our University. Rather than handing out individual sheets of paper from partnering campus offices, this booklet will create a more concise way of delivering material to our students, parents, and guests. In addition, we expect this booklet to cost less for everyone compared to each office individually printing 15,000 handouts for orientation participants.

We ask that if you wish to put information about your office in the resource guide that you please review the various options for ad sizes and select which size best fits your needs. We suggest that you include all pertinent information within the ad. We encourage including website addresses and/or QR codes for in-depth information. Once the ad is complete, you can simply send it to our office in the correct file format and we will put it in the resource guide. If you choose not to participate, you will have the opportunity to give out pamphlets at the information fair. We will not be putting loose-leaf papers within the resource guide.

The Orientation Guide is a publication distributed to all students and their families during orientation. This will include students admitted for the following terms: Summer 2015, Fall 2015, and Spring 2016. Please consider this when designing an advertisement for your office. The guide is a compilation of ads from offices and departments at University of South Carolina and off-campus vendors and businesses.

In order to reduce errors and increase consistency from page-to-page, we ask that you submit your advertisement via e-mail attachment to partnersprogram@sc.edu, according to the specifications listed below:

Sizes:

- Full page: 7.5” x 10”
- ½ page: 7.5” x 5”
- ¼ page: 3.75” x 5”

- All information is printed in color on white paper.
- Submissions must be ready for print and will only be accepted electronically, in a PDF format, with a minimum of a 300dpi resolution. If files are not in the proper format we cannot guarantee clarity and resolution. No other formats will be accepted.
- All submissions must be received by April 3rd and are subject to review and the discretion of the Office of New Student Orientation staff.
