Hannah Allison, M.A., Assistant Director of Healthy Campus & Coordinator of Aspire to Be Well, Clemson University

Hannah Allison is the Assistant Director of Healthy Campus at Clemson University. Hannah coordinates the Aspire to Be Well Program, which focuses on increasing bystander intervention in the areas of mental health, alcohol and other drug misuse, and interpersonal violence prevention while helping first year students gain an understanding of campus resources and learn how to help others in need.

Johnese Bostic, B.A., Health Equity and Disparities Consultant, Office of Minority Health, SCDHEC, Minority Mental Health

Johnese is the Health Equity & Disparities Consultant for DHEC Office of Minority Health and proudly works to assess the effectiveness of current efforts in engaging minority populations to improve health outcomes, eliminate health disparities, and improve health equity. She earned her Bachelor of Arts Degree in Behavioral Science from Columbia College. She has over eight years of experience working with diverse populations, faith based organizations and other community groups. She is a member of the Public Health Education and Health Promotion section of the American Public Health Association where she serves as Governing Councilor, she is the President of the South Carolina Public Health Association, an affiliate of the Southern Health Association, and also a representative on the Board of Directors of the Action Council for Cross Cultural Mental Health and Human Services.
Tony Claremont, M.A., CAC, Program Manager, Adolescent Outpatient Services, Lexington Richland Alcohol and Drug Abuse Council (LRADAC)

Tony Claremont is the program manager for the adolescent outpatient treatment program at LRADAC in Columbia, SC. His duties, among many other things, include providing clinical supervision to his team of clinical counselors and group and individual counseling for individuals with substance use disorders. Mr. Claremont received his undergraduate degree in psychology and his master’s degree in clinical psychology from Sam Houston State University in Huntsville, Texas and is a certified addictions counselor. He has worked in behavioral health in 3 states for 8 years and spent one great year as an academic advisor at Texas Tech University.

---

Chloe C. Greene, M.Ed., Associate Director of Healthy Campus & Coordinator of Aspire to Be Well, Clemson University

Chloe graduated from Western Carolina University and received a Bachelor of Science degree in Nutrition and Dietetics with a minor in Leadership. She later attended Clemson University and received her Master of Education degree in Counselor Education, Student Affairs. Chloe is now the Associate Director of Healthy Campus at Clemson University. Chloe coordinates the Aspire to Be Well Program, which focuses on increasing bystander intervention in the areas of mental health, alcohol and other drugs misuse, and interpersonal violence prevention while gaining an understanding of campus resources for all first year students.

---

Steven Jaindl, President of Changing Carolina Peer Leader, University of South Carolina

Steven is currently a senior studying Public Health at the University of South Carolina. He is very dedicated to health promotion amongst his fellow students and serves as President of the Changing Carolina Peer Leaders group on campus.

---

Dr. Gene Luna, Ph.D., Associate Vice President for Housing and Student Development, University of South Carolina

Gene Luna currently serves as Associate Vice President for Student Affairs and Academic Support at the University of South Carolina where he also has a clinical associate professor appointment in the College of Education, teaching in the higher education and student affair’s administration graduate programs. He has direct responsibility for the Student Success Center, Student Health Services, Student Disability Services, Student Engagement, Counseling Center, Academic Integrity, Student Conduct, National Student Exchange, Gamecock Gateway, Campus Wellness, Healthy Carolina, University Housing, Office of Sustainability, Preston Residential College, Capstone Scholars, Maxcy International House and Green Quad.
Jennifer Myers, M.A., LPC, Assistant Director of Campus Mental Health Initiatives, University of South Carolina

Jennifer Myers is the Assistant Director of Campus Mental Health Initiatives in Healthy Carolina. She received her Master’s Degree in Counseling and her Bachelor of Science in Psychology from Ball State University. Jennifer has years of experience as a mental health clinician, coordinating suicide prevention services, and engaging the University of South Carolina campus community in mental health initiatives. During her time, the University of South Carolina was awarded the Jed Campus Seal for comprehensive mental health and suicide prevention programs and continues to participate in The Campus Program.

Dr. Amy LaClaire, Psy.D., LP, Veterans/Military, Lead Suicide Prevention Coordinator, Psychology Internship & Residency, Clinical Training Director, WJB Dorn VAMC

Dr. Amy LaClaire attended the University of Florida where she earned a Bachelor of Science Degree in Psychology along with a minor in Education. She then attended the Adler School of Professional Psychology at the Chicago, Illinois campus and earned a Doctorate in Clinical Psychology. She currently works at the WJB Dorn VA Medical Center as the Lead Suicide Prevention Coordinator and the Psychology Doctoral Internship & Post-doctoral Residency Clinical Training Director. Dr. LaClaire became a board member of the American Foundation for Suicide Prevention (AFSP) South Carolina Chapter in 2014 and was elected Chapter Board President with her term beginning January 1, 2015.

Tobin R. Lovell, Psy.D., LP, Assistant Director of Community-Based Services, University of South Carolina

Toby Lovell is a Licensed Psychologist working as Assistant Director of Community-Based Services at Counseling & Psychiatry in Student Health Services at The University of South Carolina. Dr. Lovell’s areas of professional interest include college mental health, mental health outreach, group therapy, and diversity and LGBT issues in psychotherapy. Dr. Lovell is honored to be facilitating this lunch panel during the Healthy Carolina Summit.

Dr. Doreen Marshall, Ph.D., Senior Director of Education and Prevention, American Foundation for Suicide Prevention

Dr. Doreen Marshall is the Senior Director of Education and Prevention at the American Foundation for Suicide Prevention (AFSP). She has years of experiencing spanning clinical, educational, and professional settings. Dr. Marshall has expanded AFSP’s education programs and is leading a new initiative to develop programs for people who have suffered from suicidal thinking or who have survived a suicide attempt. Prior to joining AFSP, Marshall served as Associate Dean of Counseling at Argosy University, chaired the Suicide Prevention Coalition of Georgia, and served as Associate Director of The Link Counseling Center’s suicide prevention and aftercare program. Marshall holds a doctorate in Counseling Psychology from Georgia State University, a master’s degree in Professional Counseling, and a bachelor’s degree in Philosophy and English from The College of New Jersey.

Jennifer Myers, M.A., LPC, Assistant Director of Campus Mental Health Initiatives, University of South Carolina

Jennifer Myers is the Assistant Director of Campus Mental Health Initiatives in Healthy Carolina. She received her Master’s Degree in Counseling and her Bachelor of Science in Psychology from Ball State University. Jennifer has years of experience as a mental health clinician, coordinating suicide prevention services, and engaging the University of South Carolina campus community in mental health initiatives.
Alexis Stratton, M.F.A., Evaluation and Training Associate, South Carolina Coalition Against Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault

Alexis Stratton is the Evaluation and Training Associate at the South Carolina Coalition Against Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault (SCCADVASA), a statewide agency that works to end domestic violence and sexual assault in South Carolina by influencing public policy, advocating for social change, and building capacity of member programs, organizations and communities across the state. She received a Master of Fine Arts degree in Creative Writing and a Certificate in Women’s and Gender Studies from USC, where she also earned a Bachelor of Arts in English. Before joining the staff at SCCADVASA, Alexis worked in education and outreach for South Carolina Equality, South Carolina’s LGBT advocacy and education organization, and was an instructor for the Women’s and Gender Studies Program at the University of South Carolina. Alexis is passionate about educating people of all ages about social justice issues—particularly issues regarding gender and sexuality.

Starr Wharton, M.S., MCHES, Associate Director of Campus Wellness, University of South Carolina

Starr Wharton began her career in higher education as a BACCHUS Certified Peer Educator, utilizing this foundation to educate, advocate and promote for wellness on and off campus. She partners with colleagues on peer health education initiatives as a regional and national volunteer with BACCHUS Initiatives of NASPA, American Heart Association and American College Health Association. She is currently the Associate Director of Campus Wellness at the University of South Carolina where she works closely with the Changing Carolina Peer Leaders.