Guide to Parents Weekend

Requirements for Parents Weekend event access:

• Your nametag serves as your ticket into all events, so don’t forget it! You must have your nametag to be admitted to the Parents Weekend events.

• Football tickets are required to enter the stadium, so if you purchased tickets, make sure you have them before heading to the stadium area for the Tailgate Party and the game!

• All individuals who are 21 years of age or older received two wristbands — one for the Beach Bash and one for the Tailgate Party. For those who choose to drink beer and wine at these events, you must bring your wristband, which includes your drink tickets, and proper photo ID if you wish to be served. The wristbands cannot be replaced. Use the zippered pocket on your nametag holder to keep track of everything you need.

• Most importantly, have fun and enjoy your time with your student!

Welcome to Parents Weekend!

On behalf of the Office of Parents Programs and the Department of Student Life, welcome to the University of South Carolina’s annual Parents Weekend!

Wear your nametag. Please wear your nametag to all events. It serves as your admission ticket, and you will not be admitted without it. Your USC student also should wear his or her nametag to gain admission to all events. Please note that individual tickets to our events are not available as these events are exclusive to the Parents Weekend package.

Parking. Use your Parents Weekend parking pass, which you will find in your envelope, to park for free in several locations on campus this weekend! More information about these parking options is printed on the parking pass.

Explore Columbia. We encourage you to explore the city while you’re here! Included in this guide is a list of places to visit, restaurants and religious services.

Gameday tips. Pay special attention to the “Tips for Gamecock football” in this guide. They will be helpful particularly if Saturday is your first Carolina football game!

Beach Bash and Tailgate Party. At the Beach Bash and Tailgate Party, beer and wine are available for guests age 21 and older. Remember to bring your wristband and proper photo ID if you wish to be served. We ask your assistance in following state law and university policy by not providing underage students or guests with alcohol. Thank you for helping us ensure that our students (and young guests) understand how important it is to make responsible decisions and keep themselves and others safe.

Have fun! Please let our staff know if we can do anything to make your weekend at the University of South Carolina even better. We are available to assist you at the Parents Programs help table located at check-in, as well as at the Beach Bash and Tailgate Party. Go Gamecocks!

Work out at the Strom

Show your Parents Weekend nametag and work out at the university’s premier fitness facility, the Strom Thurmond Wellness and Fitness Center! All Parents Weekend registered participants age 18 and older are invited to use the facilities.

Play a round of golf

Several local golf courses are offering special discounts for Parents Weekend participants. All prices are for 18 holes and a golf cart. Please call in advance to schedule your tee times, and make sure to mention that you are attending the University of South Carolina’s Parents Weekend. When you arrive at the golf course, you must present your Parents Weekend nametag to get the discount. If you have specific questions, please contact the golf courses directly.

About Columbia
With roots that are unmistakably Southern and a forward-thinking and dynamic pulse, there are a multitude of reasons why Columbia is known to be “Famously Hot.” Easy to access by three major interstates (I-77, I-26 and I-20), Columbia is situated in the center of South Carolina at the convergence of three rippling rivers lined by a shady riverwalk perfect for jogging and walking. The area’s population is more than 700,000, with thriving colleges and universities, award-winning hospital systems and diverse and charming neighborhoods to suit any lifestyle. Several entertainment districts with outdoor cafes, coffee shops, art galleries and shops present year-round opportunities for socializing and enjoying the outdoors. Historic homes and antebellum mansions nod to a bygone era while high-tech start-up companies and arts enthusiasts thrive in the urban revitalization occurring in the downtown area. Columbia may be known for its “hot spots,” it but opens the eyes of visitors and residents daily to a “surprisingly cool” lifestyle and culture.

From Blossom Street at the Strom Thurmond Wellness and Fitness Center, drive south on Assembly Street for 1.8 miles. Refer to the Football Fan Guide for more information.
Tips for Gamecock football

Never been to a Carolina football game or tailgate?
Come prepared! Make sure to review these tips and the Football Fan Guide in your packet. The best tailgaters know that being prepared is the way to a great day of football. We recommend some sunscreen for the afternoon sun. Does it look cloudy outside? Bring your raincoat! Also, you are welcome to bring a blanket to sit on during the Tailgate Party! Get ready for an exciting experience!

Be ready for gameday traffic.
Allow plenty of time to get to the stadium, and be prepared for very heavy traffic delays. Have a plan for parking in advance. Parking lots often fill up quickly, so if you are planning to drive, you’ll want to leave for the game at least four hours (or more) before kickoff. Want to make sure you know where you’re going? Drive around the stadium area on Friday so you can become familiar with the roads and parking lot locations.

Wear your Gamecock gear.
Make sure to wear garnet and black! Stop by the University Bookstore at the Russell House to pick up some new gear.

Do I need to bring food and drinks?
No! Plenty of food and drinks will be available at the Parents Weekend Tailgate Party. Come prepared to enjoy a traditional Southern tailgate party with great music by The Reggie Sullivan Band!

Where do we park? And is there a shuttle?
Public pay lots are limited around the stadium and vary in price from depending on the distance to the stadium. Refer to the Football Fan Guide for more information about traffic flow before and after the game. Starting three hours before kickoff, the university offers a shuttle that picks up at Colonial Life Arena/Carolina Coliseum Parking Lot B and the Russell House and drops off on Rosewood Drive, east of the Main Gate to the State Fairgrounds. The round-trip price is $3 per person. You can purchase your wristband to ride the shuttle at Parents Weekend check-in on Friday or at the shuttle stop on Saturday. Shuttles run until 1.5 hours after the game with limited service throughout the game.

How do we get from where the shuttle drops us off to the Tailgate Party?
To get to the Tailgate Party, please refer to the pre-game traffic flow map in the Football Fan Guide. The walk from the shuttle drop-off to the Tailgate Party is approximately 1.1 miles. Plan to wear comfortable shoes and dress for a hot, humid day! Gamecock fans always expect to walk around our stadium area!

Walking directions. After getting off the shuttle, walk through the fairgrounds toward the stadium to George Rogers Blvd. Turn right on George Rogers Blvd., and then turn left on Bluff Road (the stadium will now be on your left). Walk down Bluff Road, passing Gamecock Park on your right and turn right on National Guard Road. Look for the big white tents and banner welcoming parents at the entrance of the Parents Weekend Tailgate Party. Be sure to wear your nametag, as it is your admission ticket and is required to enter the event. Remember to bring your green wristband and proper photo ID if you wish to be served beer or wine.

Stop by the Gamecock Village.
If you get to the stadium area early for the Tailgate Party, make sure to stop by the Gamecock Village, located at the front of Gamecock Park across from Williams-Brice Stadium. Also, explore the new Springs Brooks Plaza around the stadium! Please note that there is no waiting space available at the entrance to the Tailgate Party, so we encourage you to explore the area and enjoy the tailgate festivities in the Gamecock Village before the Tailgate Party starts.

Go see the cockabooses!
Check out these famous tailgating spots on the south side of the stadium. See how the die-hard fans take tailgating to another level.

How do we get out of here?
When the game is over, all traffic on Assembly Street will be directed toward campus. If you are on Bluff Road, you may be forced to travel south, away from Columbia. Simply get on I-77 North and exit at Garners Ferry Road heading west. Turn left, stay on Garners Ferry Road, pass Target and cross over Rosewood Drive. Stay to the left, merging on Devine Street at the Gamecock Bi-Lo. Devine Street will take you into Five Points.
We Hail Thee Carolina

We hail thee, Carolina, and sing thy high praise
With loyal devotion, remembering the days
When proudly we sought thee, thy children to be:
Here’s a health, Carolina, forever to thee!

Fight Song

Hey, let’s give a cheer, Carolina is here,
The Fighting Gamecocks lead the way.

Who gives a care, if the going gets tough,
And when it is rough, that’s when the ‘Cocks get going.

Hail to our colors of garnet and black,
In Carolina pride have we.

So, go Gamecocks go - FIGHT!
Drive for the goal - FIGHT!
USC will win today - GO COCKS!
So, let’s give a cheer, Carolina is here.
The Fighting Gamecocks all the way!

terms and definitions

2001 The University of South Carolina features perhaps the most electrifying pre-game entry in all of college football. As the minutes wind down on the game clock prior to the opening kickoff, the Gamecock football team leaves the locker room and assembles in the tunnel in the southwest corner of Williams-Brice Stadium. Then, as the crowd begins its roar of anticipation, the first notes of the theme song from 2001: A Space Odyssey blare over the stadium sound system. Finally, in perfect coordination with the music, the Gamecocks hit the field, and the stadium goes wild.

Cocky Cocky is our official mascot. Introduced in 1980 as his father Big Spur’s replacement, the garnet- and black-plumed gamecock has brought national recognition to the university. Cocky captured national championship titles as the No. 1 college mascot in 1986, 1994 and 2003.

Garnet and Black Garnet and black are the official colors of the University of South Carolina.

Southeastern Conference (SEC) Carolina accepted an invitation to become the 12th member of the Southeastern Conference (SEC) on Sept. 25, 1990, which means this weekend the university is celebrating 25 years in the SEC! A member of the SEC’s eastern division, the university regularly competes with some of the nation’s toughest athletic programs. Other schools in the SEC include Alabama, Arkansas, Auburn, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana State, Mississippi, Mississippi State, Missouri, Tennessee, Texas A&M and Vanderbilt.

Gamecock The “Gamecock” name appears to have taken hold in 1902. That year, Carolina upset Clemson, and Carolina students paraded through the streets near campus carrying a drawing that had been hanging in a local tobacco store window. The drawing had been created by Carolina mathematics professor F. Horton Colcock. Clemson fans could not help noticing that it featured the image of a gamecock standing over a fallen tiger. Violence nearly ensued before calm was restored and the crowds dispersed. Two weeks later, The State newspaper began referring to the team as the “Game Cocks.” By 1904, the two words had been joined, and the name had stuck. Today, the university’s athletic teams are known as the “Fighting Gamecocks.”

Williams-Brice Stadium Williams-Brice Stadium is home to the Gamecock football team and is filled with cheering students, alumni and fans each fall. Originally constructed in 1934, Williams-Brice Stadium currently has a seating capacity of 80,250. The university consistently ranks among the top 20 in the nation in home attendance.
